

Bachelor’s applicants: have you been notified that you are unconditionally admitted to ASU?

5 things you need to do now to move ahead with your ASU enrollment

1. Check your email and MyASU for time-sensitive notifications	2. Request your I-20	3. Give your parents or family access to MyASU	4. Pay your deposit and book housing	5. Take ASU’s math placement test then attend Academic Orientation
Log into MyASU to review Priority Tasks, take care of finances, etc. Your ASU email address is not active until shortly before classes start, so make sure your “forwarding email” is set to a personal account that you access often.	Follow the actions on your I-20 tracker within MyASU. The steps include filling out the financial guarantee form, providing bank statements (or sponsor letter for sponsored students) and uploading a copy of your passport.	Through MyASU Parent Guest Access, you can share your academic records with your parent or guardian and give them access to pay your ASU tuition and bills.	Pay your enrollment deposit ($300 if a first-year or $250 if a transfer student) to confirm your spot at ASU. 2–3 days after payment, you can access the next steps, which include booking housing and registering for courses.	During Academic Orientation, you will register for courses. You must take the math placement test at least 7 days before your Academic Orientation session because your score determines which math class you are eligible to enroll in at ASU.
Top tip Your admit letter is not available through MyASU. You will receive it via email, 5 to 7 days after admission. Print/save your letter for your travel to the USA.	Top tip MyASU only allows the upload of each document type once, so make sure your financial documents show sufficient funding prior to uploading.	Top tip Go to MyASU, select the Profile tab at the top and find “Add a Guest” under MyASU Guest Access Permissions.	Top tip Book housing early: space fills up fast. For Fall start, you can choose your room up to May 1 – after that date, you’re assigned a room where there is space.	Top tip When you register for Academic Orientation, you will be shown available dates for your 2-hour Zoom session, based upon your academic college and major.
